

Wendy Eisenberg - Eye Music

In this jazz cycle about sight and understanding, Wendy Eisenberg, accompanied by five other musicians, showcases her undeniable experimental and classical guitar abilities. The cycle flows unexpectedly and excitedly, flaunting Eisenberg's unique ear for new sounds. Featuring classic leaning jazz pieces such as "Two Times Water", and "Set A Course", and guitar lick galore treats like "Lasik" and "HM", the song cycle explores a range of harmonies and emotions. The hypnotic drums in "Two Times Water" maintain an urgency that the guitar and trumpet take turns keeping up with, while the piano keeps them company by flowing both freely and competitively when needed. Eisenberg's guitar picking tickles your ears, leaving you dizzy and earnestly wanting more.
